Faculty Introduction

I am Kallesh S C a dedicated Information Science and Engineering B.E educator Bapuji Institute of Engineering and Technology, Davanagere and currently pursuing M.Tech in Intelligence system and Industrial IOT at GM University. My academic interests lie at the intersection of IoT, Artificial Intelligence, computer vision, and software technologies. As part of my academic work, I developed an AI-Based Road Inspection System, a project focused on detecting road defects such as potholes and cracks using AI and computer vision techniques. Through this project, I gained practical exposure to AI-based image processing, web technologies, database integration, and real-world problem solving.
